The screenshot shows a music player interface with a dark theme. On the left, there is a vertical stack of album covers: Superman Goldfinger, Powerman 5000, No Cigar, You, and May 16. The main area displays a list of songs with their titles, artists, and progress indicators (0%). The selected song is "When Worlds Collide" by Powerman 5000, with a large yellow "0%" progress indicator. Below the song list, there is a keyboard shortcut bar: Favorite (CTRL), Path/Input (SPACE), Tools (ESC), Back (ENTER), and Select. On the right side, a search menu is open, showing options: SEARCH, FIND A SONG... (SHIFT), SORT BY, RECOMMENDED (TAB), FILTER BY, and FAVORITES (ALT).

TL;DR: Buggy but still playable. Randomly generated plants are fun to look at, especially the trees. Graphics are beautiful. Audio's kinda bad -- repetitive soundtrack, very few sound effects, but it doesn't take away from the enjoyment. Overall it's a pleasant experience that you can only get here.

Getting more in-depth, there're a couple things to know if you want to enjoy this game.

First, there's a trash-bin to your left. Use that to get rid of the pot currently on your desk, or throw away seeds that you don't particularly like. Note that doing that second thing makes the seed count glitch out, and you'll end up opening a brand new seed packet to find anywhere from one to four seeds inside. It's still kinda worth it, because otherwise your seed drawer fills up with junk.

Second, you can't edit or delete entries in your seed journal (from what I can tell), so only record ones you actually care about, and make sure it's accurate before you send it in. Also, you might encounter a glitch where you enter the seed journal to find an entry already open, right-click out of it, and discover your cursor is stuck in the middle of the screen. Just back out, go back in, close the entry, and this time it'll work. Having to do that every time does get old, though...

Third, you can rotate the circular thingy on your desk if you want to get a better look at your current plant, and you can put multiple plants in certain pots. Using planters to try out your five newest seeds at once is recommended.

Lastly, there's a bug where, if you try to grab a new pot when one is already on your desk, you'll get stuck halfway between the pot shelf and your desk, and you'll have to exit to the menu and start the day over. That one kinda sucks, so watch out.

The rest of the issues are kinda minor. A few typos, a noticeable lack of sound effects, disappointing randomly generated plants, an overabundance of sameface succulents, the depressing sense that the main character has no friends and never ventures outside... but it's really more good than bad. You get to settle into a comfortable routine of discovering new plants, filing them away in your notebook, fulfilling requests, and acquiring new pots. You get to experience the frustration of just starting out, the pang of rejection, and the satisfaction of a job well done. Eventually, you're putting together genuinely beautiful arrangements using your best finds and your shiniest pots, and that feels pretty good. And the trees actually look amazing; they're my favorite part of the game.

So if that sounds like a good time to you, and you don't mind the price, I very much recommend this game.. Not a great fan of the music, but more importantly the physics seem off. A ball will roll down a slope apparently not picking up any speed, and will quite often hit a wall and just stop instead of rebounding in any way. This can make it hard to play the ball for the next shot, as its either obscured by the wall or you can't look down far enough to get your cursor on the ball.

I also found the controls jittery and there is no way that I could see to adjust mouse sensitivity or fine-tune graphics. I couldn't really tell any difference in graphics playing on fastest or the highest setting - maybe if I did a side by side comparison it might have been more obvious.

Also the way the trees and flowers shiver and vibrate is frankly disturbing.

. In the critical real world = 2/10

In the cut them a break; it's not a AAA game, It's a few bucks and quite a fun little game you'd expect to find at like an arcade, kind of "world" = 7/10

I'm actually quite enjoying the game. Only on the second mission but still. I got it for $1.97 and I'd gladly give them double just to help the devs out. It does support Logitech Extreme 3d pro joystick. Probably supports others but that's the one I got. The default controls are wonky and weird. So definitely rebind your keys.

Pros:

Quick, fun little dogfighting game

Pretty good landscape/background/ground textures/graphics actually

Interesting plane/ship models

Controls are fairly responsive once you rebind them

Pretty good arcade style physics, speed is key

Joystick support

Unlimited ammo, regenerative health

Pretty "diverse" set of locations considering

Cons:

Graphics are obviously overall pretty dated but clearly some love was put into them. (Not a biggie)

Voice acting was pretty "bad." But didn't bother me

Horrible default keybindings (especially for joystick)

No graphical/audio options. Though any computer post 2008 can run the game but still. Would have liked to downsampled the game to get rid of the little bit of aliasing here and there.

Few UI issues here and there, no biggie

No ECM/Chaff to help with avoiding lock on missiles, must dodge

Only 6 missions. I want MORE and I'm only halfway through it

Overall: I'd say grab the game (even at normal price, $2.99) if you're into quick, fun, indie games that had some effort put into them, are updated, and aren't blatant cash grabs. Which this is NOT. Or if you enjoy dogfighting games. Let me be clear, this isn't an Ace Combat game, it isn't a AAA game, it doesn't have much of a story, or really a top notch anything. BUT if you just want to have some quick dogfighting fun in fairly large aerial battles pick this up, help a small time developer who isn't all that bad. I'm only the second mission but really wanted to review this because I was actually pretty impressed considering. I didn't go in with high expectations and am pleasantly surprised "SO FAR."

Pick it up. You spend more on a cup of Joe.

. Just a basic kill zombie game. Not a lot of content. Go in the dungeon and kill zombies until you die. Then repeat. Held my attention for all of about 10 minutes. Would of rather spent the money on Tetris.. For $3 and you have a Vive, get this now. No questions you will love it.. Love the game even in its Alpha stages but at this time still crashing on save games. If you have any interest in pistol shooting sports get this game! Totally worth 20 bucks. unlimited replayability, includes a stage designer, lots of guns to choose from, and tons of target and steel options. If you like the prospect of pistol competition without ammo and match costs just buy it you wont regret it.. Unfortunately for fangirls, Birthday Suiting Up is not a valid option in this dlc. Like their male gaming counterparts they simply dress up their genderbent characters in smexy clothes.

Wonderful puzzle game packed with charm and smarts. Fantastic puzzle design can at times drive you to brink of madness trying to figure out how to get a perfect score, especially on the later levels.

Cannot recommend this enough.. It has a lot of potential but there is too much cheese in the game:

1. dirt is mightier than the sword:

you can trap any monster by building a wall on top of it: I went out at night and trapped every dog that came my way and raided every camp with ease. PRO TIP: if you need more free hits then just trap it with a stronger material.

Solution:

- i. don't allow building on top of monsters.
- ii. monsters that are trapped start smashing walls in 12 seconds.

2. monsters cannot go through their own doors!

This makes it far too easy to: surround yourself with a wall, dig your way in, and then cheese the monsters by building over them.

Solution:

- i. monsters can go through doors
- ii. monsters return to guard the house after 12 seconds of inactivity.
- iii. monsters immediately attack walls that are built inside of an enclosed area.

3. Archers are easily cheesed by building a single wall to block arrows.

Solution:

- i. add a chance that the arrow will break the object and continue forward.
- ii. add a chance that the arrow will slow the target by 10% and increase hunger by 100% for 12 seconds stacking up to 10 times.

4. Monsters rarely will test your defenses.

Solution:

- i. some monsters attack dirt walls to get to you
- ii. some monsters attack stone walls to get to you
- iii. dirt walls break when a dog is within 1 tile.

PS: I would also like to see a book of Magic introduced that uses materials as reagents (think Ultima Online).. all dlc in this game are \u2665\u2665\u2665\u2665ing trash. WIEEEEEERD

. Has a good and working menu, but gets old after 5 minutes.. For a game made on Blender it runs pretty well its addictive as hell though.. Fun game. Doesn't take a long time to download, Good if you are bored and wanna play a fun game this is the one. Once you deal with the whole exceeds 2gbs of ram ordeal, its one of the best rts i've played. It runs very smoothly and each faction is very unique yet very simple to use. There's cool mechanics like hiding in trees and pronging to become hidden. It's like a prettier, more detailed version of command and conquer generals....but better. That's saying alot.. This isn't functional enough to review positively.
